THE CHURCH.

"The Church dare not exist for any one class of people," declared Rev. F. E. Reissig, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Rochester, N. Y., recently during a local church financial campaign. "It must be, if it is true to its mission, church for rich and poor alike; for the socially high and socially low; for the person in furs and the person in rags. The church must have as warm a hand of welcome for the laborer as it has for the business man and the more prosperous. There is no room for the cold shoulder in the church of Christ. No Christian will shrug his shoulders when an ill-clad person sits beside him in church. Much of the criticism of the poorer people concerning the church is justified. They do not feel at home in our churches, they say. If Jesus were in the pew poor people would always feel at home there.

"This church dare never be ruled by any one class of people, or by any small group, or by any one man. It is the church of the people. They as a whole must determine its policy and work out its plans. The church deserves the support of the people of the community outside of the congregation for there is no limit, no boundary to the church's influence. People who do not support the Christian church are as bad as the man who will sit down to a meal at a hotel and not pay for it. Many people thrive under the influence of the Christian church and never turn a hand towards the church's support."

"Albert Wasn't Dying Fast Enough" Woman Tells Police In Confession

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—Albert Nussbaum, wealthy contractor was slain in a love plot hatched by his aged wife and three other men when the hysterical widow named in her confession to the authorities late today.

Edward Goff whom Mrs. Nussbaum named as one of the plotters tonight confessed to actual slaying. Goff declared that he and his cousin, Marion Stringham kidnapped Nussbaum at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. While Stringham covered the aged man with his revolver, Goff declared he himself struck him over the head with a club, the authorities announced.

The two carried the body to the Nussbaum garage and when darkness fell conveyed it to the prairie where it was found today.

Goff and Stringham are under arrest, while John Walton Winn, 45 year old suitor of Mrs. Nussbaum, is still at large. Winn and Mrs. Nussbaum used the apartment occupied by Stringham and Goff, both 27 years old as their trysting place.

"Albert wasn't dying fast enough" Mrs. Nussbaum declared after telling of her love affair with Winn. Yesterday afternoon in Stringham apartment we planned that the three men were to get the old man while he was coming home, beat him up and then take him and hide him out in the prairie. Stringham was to get our car out of the garage and use it to carry the body away.

"At the last minute I tried to back out but they wouldn't let me."

"When I came home last night my husband wasn't there and I knew that they had done it."

Winn and the woman, his senior by 20 years, planned to kill after she had obtained her husband's money.

Big Increase In

On the eve of the new registration of voters of Contra Costa county, County Clerk J. H. Wells last night made the prediction that the registration will show at least between 23,000 and 24,000 and may run up to 25,000.

The new registration will be started tomorrow by the 80 deputies named by Wells. The law requires an entirely new registration every two years.

Wells declared that the last registration was approximately 22,000, but the natural growth of the county would bring the number near the 25,000 mark.

Lauds City As Coming Center
Of Bay Section

It is with deep regret that Mrs. Helen Johnson, manager of the Schrader Furniture store of this city, is leaving her position and making arrangements to go in the real estate business in San Antonio, Texas. Mrs. Johnson states that if it were not for the fact that she has large real estate holdings in Texas, which require her attention, that she would not think of leaving a city which possesses the unlimited possibilities for advancement that Richmond does.

Mrs. Johnson, during her sojourn here, has made a large circle of friends, who are sorry to hear of her intended departure. She has been connected with the business of the Schrader Furniture company for a little over a year. Mrs. Johnson will be accompanied by her mother. They will motor down, stopping at Los Angeles and other important points en route.

Mrs. Johnson has played an important part in many activities while she has been in Richmond. She has been a deeply interested member of the Business and Professional Women's club and states that a live group of women such as these are an asset to a growing city like Richmond that it is hard to estimate their worth.

In her opinion the future of Richmond is going to be wonderful, and she states that she has been greatly impressed with the advantages which the town has. If Richmond continues developing as it has in the last year, its possibilities will be unsurpassed, she pointed out.

Mrs. Johnson lauded the Richmond Chamber of Commerce to a high degree in her interview with a representative of the RECORD-HERALD. "The Richmond Chamber of Commerce has shown a marked spirit of cooperation to all business organizations of the city. Richmond should be proud of this group, who make extensive plans for its development," Mrs. Johnson stated.

"No city the size of Richmond, tries to please the public as they do here. The purchasing public is becoming more and more used to trading at home," she continued.

Mrs. Johnson states that she has watched the average of births in Richmond for some time, as a barometer of growth here, and finds that about 50 births a month is the average. She figures that ratio with the ever increasing population and states that "in ten years Richmond will be the most outstanding manufacturing and commercial units of the Eastbay."

The real estate concern with which Mrs. Johnson is to be connected with in San Antonio is advancing one of the largest colonization projects which has ever been promoted in Southwest Texas.

NEW BRIDGE TO
FETE TONIGHT

The new $2,000,000 San Joaquin River bridge will be opened at midnight this evening amid a blare of horns and general celebration of the citizens of Antioch and surrounding country. A gathering of 2,000 persons is expected at the opening of the bridge, which will span the San Joaquin river.

Construction of the bridge was started in June, 1924. Its length, including approaches is 4,639 feet. The structure is equipped with a lift span that elevates to 135 feet, thus allowing ample clearance for the largest type of ships. The driveway is 21 feet wide. The new bridge will shorten the distance between San Francisco and Oakland and Sacramento by seven or eight miles.

Under the franchise granted by the Contra Costa board of supervisors the bridge will be turned over to the county gratis by the builders at the expiration of 25 years.

Local Firms to Be Invited to Oakland Show

Local manufacturers will receive invitations within the next week to participate in the exposition to be held March 20 to 27 in the Oakland Auditorium. Most of Eastbay manufacturers will display their products and it is expected that local concerns will play an important part in this affair.

The Chamber of Commerce of Oakland is sponsoring the affair, and it is stated that it will be the most successful exposition of its kind ever held in Oakland. Alister McKenzie is chairman of the manufacturers' committee.

Plans have been drawn by John McLaren of San Francisco, for a new band stand in the Memorial Park and City Manager J. A. McVittie and Superintendent of Parks, R. Tchereassy are making arrangements for the installation of the stand and seats.

Fire Department Saves Life of
New Born Baby

A precedent has been established in Richmond, the fire department work beyond the prevention and the fighting of fires and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dawson, 649 Sixth street are the happy parents of a son, brought back to life through the efforts of the fire department. At birth the child was near death and the department was called upon to use its "H. H." inhalator in the case. After about an hour's work by Chief W. P. Cooper the baby began to show signs of life and it was not long until it was certain he was revived.

The inhalator was purchased by the fire department for the express purpose of restoring breathing to victims of smoke in fires. Yesterday marked the first time life was revived in a baby by this means in the history of Richmond.

Lang was chairman, assisted by George Lee and Pryce Roberts. A program consisting of a reading by J. A. Long, selections by the Kiwanis society, and a talk by Dr. Henry Mehreman, president of the Oakland Kiwanis club, was enjoyed by those present.

Dancing to Wesberger's orchestra, rounded out the remainder of the evening.

James Angel In Narrow Escape
In Plane Smash

According to word sent here from Fresno, two men narrowly escaped injury when the plane in which they attempted to land after a trip from Richmond ploughed its nose into a grain field. James Angel, local man, was piloting the machine, with J. H. Polton, Fresno and Oakland, real estate man beside him. The propeller and right wheel were smashed.

Angel had been engaged by Polton to take him to Fresno, and had failed to locate the landing field due to the fog. Chief of Police W. G. Walker conducted an investigation.

Thieves Visit Local Garage

Thieves last night jimmied the front door of the Star Garage, 415 Bissell avenue, but were evidently frightened before their job was fairly started as they left with only a Pyrene fire extinguisher valued at $8.50.

The robbery was discovered by H. S. Payson who drove up to the garage to leave his car for the night. He heard a scrambling inside, according to the police, so it is believed that the robbers left in a hurry.

LOCAL FIELDS INSPECTED BY
CO. OFFICIAL

Richmond Selected Because of Its Proximity To The Entire Bay Region

PASSENGER LINE PLANNED

Weather and Wind Conditions Here Important Factors Company Official States

That Richmond is to be the San Francisco Bay terminal for an airplane passenger, and express line to be established between Los Angeles and the San Francisco bay region, was yesterday indicated by Ralph G. Johnson, general manager of the Coastal Airways who was in Richmond yesterday. Johnson attracted to Richmond by the Municipal Airport, which was conducted here by the Chamber of Commerce some months ago, stated that he was concluding an exhaustive study of the San Francisco bay region for a suitable landing field in this section which would be available in all kinds of weather and be in close proximity to the entire San Francisco bay region.

The company which Johnson represents has been engaged in planning the proposed service for more than a year and this is Johnson's second visit to Richmond.

According to Johnson the company is backed by conservative business men of the southern city who decided at the time of the organization of the company more than a year ago that they would start operation only when the business in view and the facilities available would warrant.

"We have not purchased any of our equipment as yet" Johnson stated yesterday. "It is our plan to purchase only such ships as are absolutely necessary to establish and keep up a regular service between the San Francisco bay regions. The types of airplanes are changing too much at the present time for us to go in for a heavy expenditure and later find that our ships are obsolete before they are half worn out. Our initial flying equipment will probably consist of three Douglas transport planes and two small ships for emergency use. The Douglas planes, which are the latest and considered the best types at the present time are capable of carrying eight passengers or a load of 2,000 pounds. We believe this will be adequate at the beginning. If the business warrants we will increase our flying equipment."

"I have just completed a complete survey of the entire San Francisco bay region and feel confident that Richmond is the only place we can find that will meet our needs. Even though we might locate a place where the transportation facilities to San Francisco might be better we would be unable to find fields large enough for our use. I have been shown a number of other fields in this vicinity, but none of them meet the needs of the type of planes which we will use."

Johnson will visit Richmond again in a short time and attempt to locate a field, which the company will be able to use. He states that when arrangements are completed they will construct hangars and waiting rooms preparatory to the launching of their service.

The possibility of the Coastal Airways cooperating with other lines for a transcontinental service with Richmond as the western terminus was also discussed by Johnson yesterday, but this matter he said had been put in the background by the officials of his company, pending the successful launching of a coastwise service.

ANSWER TARIFF ENEMIES

The protection of the American workman in his wages and his present scale of living has been frankly and plainly enunciated by Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican National Committee, as one of the fundamentals of the Republican campaign. The European nations, he said, not only solicited, but accepted, our aid with a complete understanding of our tariff conditions and regulations. Under these conditions Chairman Butler said that, for one, he would stand unalterably opposed to any program which aimed to reduce tariff and thus lower the standard of wages and living now enjoyed by the American workmen by opening the American nation to the flood of low production costs of European goods.

The tariff, he said, was a fundamental of the Republican party, and the success of the Republican party had never yet been marked by depression in business, idle and unemployed people walking the street, or reduced wages, that the stand of the party for the tariff was based on the appreciation and the agreement of all that the tariff was a necessity to protect the American workingmen.

While attempts have been made, he said, to influence the minds of the farmers with the thought that the tariff had worked a hardship on them, one positive fact stood forth above everything else, viz., that the prosperity of the American agriculturist and his ability to dispose of his goods required a well paid, satisfied and regularly working consuming population. Contrariwise, he said, the workmen could not expect continuity of employment unless the farmer had a share of prosperity sufficient to permit them to purchase the products which the American workmen were producing. In short, he said, the importance of the tariff as a protective instrument covers both the agriculturists and the producers alike.

PAT'S "GOOD TASTE"

The American public believes in fair play. It condemns unqualifiedly the hitting of a man when his hands are tied. This is exactly what was done the other day in the Senate when Pat Harrison of Mississippi, boy orator of the New York convention, took occasion to attack Vice President Charles G. Dawes, a veteran of the World War who served while Harrison was safely ensconced in a seat in the Senate or was spending his time in the wilds of Mississippi.

It is true that Harrison made his speech in the guise of a humorous dissertation, but it is quite characteristic of the distinguished, learned gentleman from Mississippi to pursue just such tactics; so, if called to account, he is in a position to take refuge in saying that his remarks were merely in a jocular vein, but, nevertheless, in his speeches, and this is not the first one of this kind that Harrison has delivered, there is an undercurrent of spite. Harrison has adopted these tactics in the Senate before and, while he smiles when he delivers these bits of alleged wit and sarcasm, nevertheless there is apparent venom back of that grin.

Whether or not one agrees with Vice President Dawes in his desires to change the rules of the Senate, the fact remains that the attack of Harrison was a cowardly one, for the rules of the Senate do not permit the Vice President to speak on the floor of the Senate. It was like tying a man in a chair and then deliberately striking him across the face with a whip.

Mr. Ford's new air flivver may or may not revolutionize aviation, but there's no doubt but it's going to make suicide easy.—Macon Telegraph.

THE CALL OF ADVENTURE
News did not travel as fast in the fifteenth century as it does in the twentieth. But it travelled just as surely.

As soon as Christopher Columbus returned to the streets of Palos and the court of Spain, after his long absence in search of a water route to India by way of the western seas, people everywhere began talking of his voyage. He had come home with tales of hitherto unknown lands. He had discovered the West Indies-America.

Over in England, John Cabot asked permission to sail in western and northern seas—and was granted dominion over whatever lands he might find. He landed upon the bleak shores of northeastern Canada, it is thought.

Cabot was accompanied by his daring son, Sebastian, who later made many voyages of his own and whose services were divided between the courts of Spain and England. He cruised down along the coast of North America as far south as North Carolina, from the Labrador region.

Then that intrepid adventurer, Vasco de Gama, set sail due south from the Cape Verde Islands and after rounding the Cape of Good Hope sailed straight to India, delighting the heart of the Portuguese monarch under whose flag he sailed. For a direct water route to India had been found.

Of sea fights and skirmishes there were as plenty, even for the battle-loving adventurer, Alonso de Ojeda. His ships coasted along South America for the most part. A young Italian by the name of Amerigo Vespucci sailed forth and wrote home many letters of such interest that they were translated into many tongues. From the inland country of Germany came the suggestion that the new lands be named for Amerigo: America.

Always on the lookout for a stretch of sea beyond the land of the New World, Balboa was the first to look upon the great Pacific ocean.

Ponce de Leon sailed forth to discover in Florida the fabled Fountain of Youth. For no story was too hard to believe in those days.

Macellon, the stout-hearted mariner, who started to sail around the world, died on the voyage, but a ship of his fleet completed the journey.

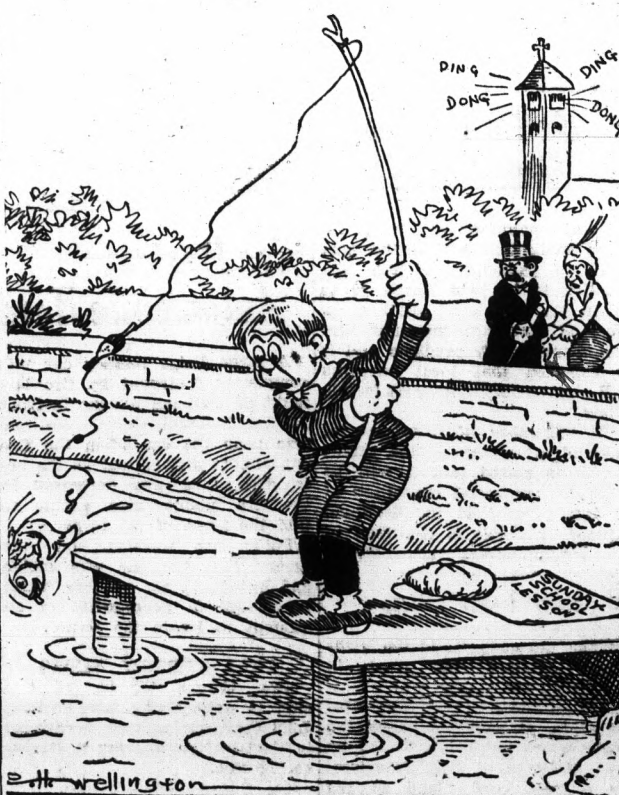

Let us glance at the stories of these men.
Tomorrow: John Cabot of England sets sail.

Test For Radio Music Lovers

"WHAT have been the fifteen great song hits of the past fifteen years?" The question has been put to S. C. Lanin, leader of the Ipana Troubadours, who broadcast each Wednesday evening from WEA, WCAP, WEEL, WGR, WWJ, WSAI, WOC, WCCO and who within the past week have been engaged to broadcast weekly programs from station KDS, St. Louis.

Mr. Lanin, who has for years been a popular orchestra leader on Broadway and recording artist for the phonograph, finds himself puzzled to reach a decision. "While I might name the fifteen song hits on Broadway," he says, "I realize that this list might not harmonize with the ideas of Chicago, St. Louis or San Francisco. I have been requested to prepare a program for broadcasting at our regular time, some Wednesday from 9 to 10 p. m., the entire program to be made up of the fifteen song hits of the past fifteen years. I find I am compelled to ask for advice and would like to have people who are a bit tired of the crossword puzzle devote an evening to searching their musical memories and compiling a list to be sent to me at WEA, 195 Broadway, N. Y.

"I can name the Presidents of the United States in order and most of the capitals of states, but the musical memory test that has been put to me is much more difficult, so I must pass my problem on to the thousands of radio listeners who will be interested in having such a program rendered. As soon as it is possible to reach an equitable decision the program will be announced."

A Cosy Suit to Keep Him Snug

NOTHING could be prettier than a knitted suit of English Angora yarn for the small child. It is so soft and furry that it seems completely suited to a baby. The yarn is spun from the fur of Angora rabbits, snow white little animals with pink eyes that differ from our own white rabbits in that their fur attains a length of six inches. This new yarn is dyed in the prettiest shades. It makes an adorable suit for a baby in white, pale pink, pale blue or pale yellow. An older child might look charming in a suit knitted in Antwerp blue Angora yarn, which is dark, or in a bleu de France, which is bright. A brown eyed child would be pretty in a suit knitted from one of the brown shades such as suede, cameo tan, cinnamon or perhaps a russet. The yarn washes so well that you do not have to think of selecting a color that will not require washing. In fact, each time it is laundered it becomes more furry. English Angora yarn is very light and, being made from fur, very warm. A little suit with cap and mittens to match would make an incomparable Christmas present for a child.

PRO GRID TEAMS HIT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 30.—Milwaukee, Pottsville, Pa., and the Chicago Cardinals of the National professional football league have all been hit hard for infractions of the rules of the league. Milwaukee was ousted for using high school players and the Cardinals were fined for playing against them. Pottsville was suspended for false advertising.

WALKER TRAINS

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Weiterweight Champion of the World Mickey Walker starts training tomorrow for his championship fight with Tommy Milligan of England in the Madison Square Garden on January 22. Milligan is the champion of Britain and is rated among the best from across the pond. Walker will train hard for the bout and is expected to hold his title.

MAC PREDICTS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 30.—Connie Mack declared today that the American League race in 1926 would be the tightest in years if not in the history of the league. Mack pointed out that there was not a single club that did not have a chance to win the pennant. Last year it was a two club race most of the time but in 1926 it will be far different, according to Mack.

JOHNSON QUMES BACK

With dozens of upsets in the tennis world in 1925 as in the football world, the most sensational is probably that of William Johnson of California who staged a sensational come back after the majority of fans thought he was through. The United States still reigns supreme in the game. There was some great playing but Johnson's proved to be the surprise of the season.

HUSKIES PREPARE

Coach Boushaw and his crew of Huskies of the University of Washington are now in California for what is probably their biggest game of the year, that with Alabama for the honors of the Intercollegiate title on New Years at Pasadena. As they trotted around Ewing Field in San Francisco yesterday, the Husky Horde looked like world beaters to the spectators.

DE PAOLO FIRST

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—The speedway champion of 1925 has been chosen. He is Peter De Paolo, winner of numerous races this year. He has been awarded No. 1 for the machine he will drive in 1926. There was no No. 1 in 1925, it being awarded to Johnny Murphy, who was killed. Tommy Milton took second with 1735 points. De Paolo finished with 3260 points.

Suit Is Filed On Building Contract

Two suits, asking judgement in the sum of $18,326.36, were filed in the superior court at Martinez yesterday against Ben Kronick of Rodeo. Martz claims he contracted with Kronick last May to construct a building in Rodeo and that he expended the sum of $10,864 when Kronick took possession of the plans and specifications, preventing him from completing the work. He was paid $2,287.64 on account, Martz claims. For the amount alleged to be still owing and with $5000 for services and labor, Martz asks $13,576.36.

The second suit sets forth that Martz was forced to excavate through solid rock and place additional concrete in the foundation of the building. This was not included in the specifications, Martz alleges. He asks $4750 in this suit. Attorney Clare D. Horner represents Martz.

Rearrest Woman On Boozie Charge

Richmond police yesterday arrested Mrs. Rose San Miguel, when they raided her home at the Belmont hotel, Garrard boulevard and Barrett avenue. Police claim a gallon of wine was found. Mrs. Miguel was at liberty on $500 bail, fixed on a previous liquor charge. She will appear before Police Judge C. A. Odell this morning.

LIFE OF 70'S SHOWN IN FILM AT CALIFORNIA

Good morning, girls!

If you want to get something on grandma, see Marion Davies in "Lights of Old Broadway," a Cosmopolitan production for Metro Goldwyn-Mayer, directed by Monta Bell and now showing at the California Theatre.

Marion has interpreted a dual

role of the early seventies with such fidelity that she has given us quite an inkling about grandma's life as a flapper.

The lovely Marion flaps quite ardently and beautifully, even if she uses more antiquated methods than is the mode of today. She has some of the 1871 style of sheikhs doing flip-flops and landing kerplunk right at her feet.

She's demure and all that but she exercises her wiles in an even headier manner than we do now—and she has poor Conrad Nagel twisted about her little finger in a manner that would make it seem he were double-jointed.

Yes mam, girls—put on your Spanish shawls and go to the California Theatre and see grandma in her patsy. Scan her as she rides about in a victoria drawn by a spanking team of dapple greys. True enough, she knew nothing about straight eights and other high-powered motors but she knew a lot about old Dobbin and some of the one-horse shays that used to set these tyles in fashionable transportation methods.

And when you see the power of Marion Davies' heart, take a look at Conrad Nagel and the other well-dressed young men that copied their wardrobes after the modes of the then Prince of Wales. Your blood has tingled many times when you have seen Conrad make love, but I'll guarantee you have never seen him at his best until you see him in the role of Drik De Rhondo in pursuit of the heart of Fely O'Tandy. "Lights of Old Broadway" is that young and handsome Monta Bell's latest directorial offering and it's real entertainment.

Carey Wilson wrote the scenario from Laurence Eyre's stage success "The Merry Wives of Gotham." Others in the cast are Charles McHugh, Eleanor Lowson, Frank Currier, Julia Swayne Gordon, Matthew Betz, Wilbur Higby and George K. Arthur.

Other features include "Bachelors' Babes," a Juvenile comedy; "International News"; Larry Canelo, at the organ.

The Golden Bed At Richmond Is Pleasing Many

"The Golden Bed" now at the Richmond Theatre is a story of two girls, a pampered belle and her resourceful sister—and what they do for a self-made millionaire who is an all too human combination of strength and weakness.

The picture is Cecil B. DeMille's latest production for Paramount which was adapted by Jeanie Macpherson, author of "The Ten Commandments," from Wallace Irwin's novel and Pictorial Review serial. The book was hailed by critics and public alike as "the most searching novel of marriage ever written. Its pages glow with life and love."

And what a picture De Mille has made of it!

Flora Lee selfish young daughter of the aristocratic family of Peake, and her younger though for more sensible sister Margaret, are both in love with Admah Holtz, rising young candy manufacturer who is long on money but shy on culture.

Holtz marries Flora Lee, the girl who turned her back on him when he was poor, only to realize that it is not she she loves but his money. Flora Lee gives a big candy ball which ruins Admah. He goes to prison. The girl goes off with another man while Margaret backs up young Holtz; he fights back, has partially recovered, when Flora Lee returns, half out of her head, to the house of Peake, now used as a tenement. There she dies in the golden bed while Margaret and "Candy" Holtz go into each other's arms.

"The Golden Bed" will strike an unusually human note to those who have watched hard-working "nobodies" rise to wealth and social position over those who believed a marvelous family name did away with all necessity for work.

Rod La Roque, Vera Reynolds and Lillian Rich have the principal roles in the production.

The Trull apartments, Sixth and Nevin avenue, was slightly damaged by a roof fire yesterday afternoon. The blaze was caused from sparks from the chimney, but the fire department extinguished the fire before serious damage was done.

Others featured are Warner Baxter Theodore Kosloff and Julia Faye. There's a great cast playing in support.

Other features on the same program include "Hot Doggie," a Walter Hiers comedy; "Prizma," the screen magazine.

Schapiro Opens Offices In S. F.

San Francisco offices are being opened at 833-834 Mills building, by B. Schapiro & Co., who have handled the building of numerous homes in Richmond and Contra Costa county this year. A plan of steady expansion is being laid by the company and the offices in San Francisco are being opened to take care of the business of that side of the bay, according to J. B. Corrie, sales manager. The office at 1002 Macdonald avenue will be maintained as the local headquarters of the company.

BAY POINT IS THREATENED BY SERIOUS FIRE

Bay Point was seriously threatened with destruction early yesterday when the Bay Point laundry was burned to the ground, the flames spreading to the Palace pool hall while citizens tried to combat the rapidly spreading flames. Damages estimated at $5000 resulted.

There being no regular fire department in Bay Point it was impossible to do much until the Martinez department sent apparatus. The blaze was brought under control after two hours.

The homes of Bay Point residents and the business section were seriously threatened. All that saved Bay Point was the new water system recently installed which supplanted the old one and one-half inch water mains of two and one-half inches. Sufficient volume and pressure was thereby available for successfully fighting the fire with the limited apparatus at hand.

Trade Conflict in Latin America Discussed by U. S. Bureau Head

By Dr. Julius Klein, director of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce.

3RD INSTALLMENT

"In the first place by far the greater proportion of our imports from Latin America were unaffected by the tariff act which became effective in 1922. And imports have continued to increase from the principal Latin American countries since enactment of that tariff. In 1921 before the new tariff became effective our combined imports from the Argentine, Brazil and Chile totaled $203,187,000. In 1924, under the new tariff our total imports from these countries amounted to $352,919,000 of which 84.6 per cent entered duty free. The Argentine, the only country whose exports to the United States are dutiable in any considerable proportion, sold us products valued at more than $75,000,000, in 1924, of which 38 per cent entered free of duty. This was an increase from about $50,000,000 in 1921 when 68.6 per cent entered free of duty. Imports from Central America also increased in 1924 over 1921 notwithstanding a slight percentage of increase in the proportion of dutiable products.

"It is interesting to note that the United States, besides being the principal market for Brazilian coffee, taking 67 per cent of the total crop, is the only large buyer which permits this product to enter duty free. England, France, Germany, Belgium and Italy all impose duties on coffee. We pay Brazil $158,000,000 for its coffee last year and that figure is likely to be exceeded this year.

"If we are to hold our markets in Latin America we must continue to assist those rapidly growing organizations with invested capital. Ten years ago our total foreign investments were estimated at about $2,000,000,000, but at the end of 1924 the total American investments abroad, excluding advances made by our Government, had increased to $9,090,000,000 of which $4,040,000,000 or 44 per cent has gone into Latin America. And 80 per cent of these Latin American investments are in productive enterprises—the upbuilding of her economic power, the development of her vast resources. During the first 10 1-2 months of 1925, $216,591,000 of American capital went into the further expansion of Latin American industry and economic well being. The foregoing seems adequate evidence that we are not ignoring the investment possibilities of that region.

"Now let us turn to some of the more concrete evidence of foreign competition. European manufacturers have recently been successful in the Argentine in public tenders for machinery, electrical equipment and mill supplies. These concerns usually maintain resident engineering staffs equipped to handle installations for their Belgian account, whereas competing American companies often have to rely on native or foreign sub-contractors. This absence of resident American engineering staffs, particularly in the interior or out of the way sections of Latin America makes possible the easy diversion of many valuable contracts to foreign interests. It is not uncommon for native or foreign engineers employed by municipalities or states—there are frequently no adequate public engineering departments maintained—to draw up specifications which favor our European competitors. German steamship lines to the Argentine are now virtually on a pre-war basis and their tonnage is modern and efficient.

"In Peru British agricultural machinery interests have secured as representatives a concern which has been successful in selling automobiles and trucks. German mining and sugar-cane cars and rotary presses; Argentine phonograph records, Italian felt hats, and British and Swedish low grade fuel engines are also being pushed in this market. German manufacturers of drugs and essential oils are conducting a skillful advertising campaign in Peru through educational motion pictures and both German and Italian firms are using the Peruvian press extensively in an attempt to popularize their wares.

"German and Belgian concerns have underbid American companies by a margin of 20 per cent in railway materials in Uruguay. In Paraguay there is keen competition mostly on the basis of price in hardware and small tools. Notwithstanding the quality reputation of American products, this is also becoming increasingly the case in Brazil in hardware, chemicals and drugs, electrical equipment and specialties. During 1924 Germany secured orders for 125 locomotives for the railways of Brazil and she is continuing to offer keen competition on a price basis. An Italian shipping company located at Genoa is planning the inauguration of a new service between Mediterranean ports, the Amazon Valley and South Brazil and another has been put in operation to Central America and the West Indies. American products suffer now the lack of transportation facilities to North Brazil, a service which Europeans have been able to supply by means of triangular traffic runs between Europe, Brazil and the United States.

"In Columbia competition from British and Belgian sources is keen in railroad supplies, and from Germany in locomotives. A Belgian bid accepted for 2,000 tons of rails quoted prices not materially different from those offered by American concerns. However in supplying recent material (bridges) for the railroad, Belgian prices were distinctly lower

Final Divorce Decree Secured By Mrs. Blume

Mrs. Angelina Guisti Blume was yesterday granted a final decree of divorce from her former husband G. Guisti, after she had had letters of administration in the estate of her late husband F. A. Blume of San Pablo revoked in Martinez on the ground that she had not secured the final decree of divorce from her first husband. The Blume estate is valued at approximately $50,000.

Although the divorce from Guisti gives Mrs. Blume a legal status in marriage, it has no bearing on the action of the court in revoking the letters of administration. Mrs. Guisti obtained her interlocutory decree on September 4, 1918 from Gloloma Guisti and after four years was married to Blume in Oakland.

Safe Carted Away By Men Who Rob Oakley Garage

MARTINEZ, Dec. 30.—The safe stolen from the Del Porto garage in Oakley early this morning was discovered at noon today on the highway one-half mile from Brentwood by Sheriff's deputies. Some hours earlier the deputies found papers taken from the safe strewn beside the highway, and these led to the discovery of the safe itself. The lock had been broken from the strong box and all valuables removed.

The robbery was committed by backing a truck up to the garage and carrying the whole safe to a place where it could be opened at leisure. According to authorities the safe contained about $200 in cash and jewelry valued at $500.

During the night the Juett and Bassett Meat Market and the Bilelow store in Antioch were robbed, small sums of money being taken. Four strangers in a Cadillac automobile were seen near Brentwood around midnight and about 1 o'clock this morning they were seen in Oakley.

Safe From FIRE

Valuable papers, Bonds, Securities and similarly important documents — if kept in the home — are in constant danger of destruction by fire. For Fate, in dealing out flames, makes no choice.

Better to put such valuables beyond the reach of destructive elements. Somewhere where you have "peace of mind" that they're safe from possible loss or damage and where you can get them when you need them.

Good references required

'YOU would not like to hire anyone without a good reference.

Why not extend the same plan to the servants you buy for your home—the servants that sweep your floors, that wash and iron your clothes—that play music for you—that feed your family?

You can buy such servants—vacuum cleaners, washers and ironers, phonographs and food—with or without references. When they are advertised, they are vouched for by a responsible person—the merchant or manufacturer. You can buy them with confidence—knowing that they must live up to their references.

That's why it pays you to read the advertisements. Through advertising you learn not only what is good, but what is trustworthy.

AND ADVERTISEMENT IS MORE THAN A REFERENCE—IT IS A CERTIFIED CHECK OF SATISFACTION
